Bible Answers | v0.1.0 Beta | Last updated: September 5, 2026

Welcome to Bible Answers. By accessing or using Bible Answers, you agree to these Terms & Conditions. If you do not agree with these terms, please do not use the service.

Bible Answers is currently provided as a Beta service and may change, be interrupted, or contain errors as development continues.

1. About Bible Answers

Bible Answers is a free, open-source, AI-assisted application designed to help users discover relevant passages from the Bible based on questions, feelings, situations, or topics they provide.

The service is intended for Scripture discovery, reflection, and personal exploration.

Bible Answers does not represent itself as a church, denomination, religious authority, or substitute for pastoral guidance.

2. AI-Generated Responses

Bible Answers uses artificial intelligence to help interpret user input and generate contextual responses and Scripture recommendations.

AI-generated responses may occasionally be:

- Incorrect
- Incomplete
- Misleading
- Inappropriate for a particular context
- Different from how a qualified religious scholar or pastor might interpret Scripture

Users should independently review the Scripture provided and use their own judgment.

Bible Answers does not guarantee that every AI-generated response is accurate or theologically complete.

3. Not Professional or Pastoral Advice

Bible Answers is intended as a reflection and Scripture-discovery tool.

Its responses should not be considered a substitute for:

- Pastoral or spiritual counseling
- Professional theological guidance
- Medical advice
- Mental-health care
- Legal advice
- Financial advice
- Emergency assistance

For serious or urgent matters, users should seek appropriate qualified professional or pastoral support.

4. Scripture

Bible Answers provides Scripture passages from the Bible translation identified on its Scripture Source page.

Users are encouraged to read Scripture in its broader context rather than relying solely on an individual verse or AI-generated interpretation.

Bible Answers does not claim ownership of public-domain Scripture text.
